

HIPPEST PLACE TO SHOP:

————— #1 10 Corso Como ————— in the Seaport district

“A concept shop imported from Milan with men’s and women’s cutting-edge fashion, a book shop, art gallery, garden café and restaurant with a hip lounge feel and a buzzy European vibe.”

“Uber trendy restaurant and shop from Milan, a cross between Barney’s, Jeffrey’s and Assouline Book Store. They have amazing coffee table books, candles, fragrance, avant-garde designer clothing and shoes.”

————— HONORABLE MENTIONS —————

“FAO Schwartz. Recently reopened in Rockefeller Center with the latest toys, the famous BIG piano and a rocket elevator.”

“Nordstroms Men’s Store, in midtown. Nordstrom’s first and flagship store in NYC. The latest men’s fashions, barbershop and bar/lounge. Order a cocktail while you’re shopping. Look for the women’s store, opening this fall – 6 stories, restaurants, a shopping experience!”

“Mackage in SoHo. Men’s, women’s and kid’s outerwear and hand bags.”

“Artists and Fleas in Chelsea. Something for everyone, including vintage items, art, jewelry, soap, you name it. It’s the perfect place to buy gifts or treat yourself. If you get hungry, you are at Chelsea Market with food options galore.”

“The Real Real. The bricks-and-mortar version of the online secondhand and vintage retailer, chock full of Gucci, Hermes, Louis Vuitton, Prada and Cartier. Brand authenticators are on staff. It’s truly an education in what to look for when purchasing luxury goods.”

“Acker Merrall & Condit, Astor Wines+Spirits and Sherry Lehman. The bourbon trend is red hot, and New York has some of the best resources to secure a rare bottle. These three have made bourbon hunters very happy.”

“Chop Suey Club, on Hester Street, brings Chinese art and design to NYC.”

“November 19 Shop in Hell’s Kitchen, for creative house-ware and vintage clothing.”

“PIQ. The cutest, fun, little knickknacks.”

“Tictail Market. New Lower East Side location on Orchard Street. An ever-evolving selection of clothing and accessories from up-and-coming designers.”

“Fivestory, in a gorgeous townhouse on the Upper East Side. A curated selection of established designers in a comfortable setting, by a well-connected millennial socialite.”

“Dover Street Market on Lexington at 30th Street. A fantastic gallery-like space with high-end streetwear and designers that offer in-store experiences.”

“C21 Edition in Century 21 off Church Street, downtown. Week-long, single-label events in a two-story space. Who knew you could get a discount and brand-name labels?”
