COUTURE CRYSTAL

LAUTREC introduces luxurious, sensual stemware

Artist/designer, Rene Lautrec, has a new, creative venture, LAUTREC Crystal. It's elegant. It is truly the apex of form, function and art.

LAUTREC crystal took three years to develop. What inspired you?

RL: Art is more than a museum piece. It is a functional component of life. Our lives are made richer by art and artistry. I am attracted to items that are organic. What is more organic than enjoying good food and drink with friends and family?

How do you approach the design of your stemware?

RL: The waterdrop shape is key. It is a metaphor for life and a recurring theme in my crystal line. Each piece enhances the dining experience.

What makes LAUTREC Stemware unique?

RL: My crystal is lead-free. The form contributes to the strength. The chemistry reflects the light like a diamond. The etching is 24k gold and will never come off. Our achievements are due to the execution of the design. Our artisans are masterful.

What do you consider your signature piece?

RL: Each piece is like my child. Each is unique. I've watched people sample wine with the flavors of the terrior [earth] in the Bordeaux wine glass. Their expressions were inspiring. LAUTREC Stemware makes a statement.

Experience LAUTREC crystal-ware in the world's best hotels, including the Four Seasons, Ritz-Carlton and Mandarin Oriental, fine restaurants, cruise lines and better department stores beginning Summer 2019.
