

An escape
is just a train ride away
in Westchester

Whether escaping for the day or a long weekend, for work or for play, Westchester County is the place to be for everything outdoors. From the majestic Hudson River to historic homes and gardens, scenic hiking trails for every fitness level plus the area's abundant natural beauty, an escape has never been so close. And it's easily accessible via three Amtrak® stations on two major intercity lines, and Metro-North, too.
